

Greece volunteer ambulance service to hold drive to fund renovations

The Greece Volunteer Ambulance Service will begin a fund drive tomorrow to pay for renovations and expansions to its 33-year-old building at 867 Long Pond Road.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. an ambulance, paramedic unit and fire truck will be on display, crafts will be for sale, and musicians, clowns and storytellers will perform. A ceremony at 11 a.m. kicks off the renovation work. The ambulance service hopes to raise $270,000 during the capital fund drive.

The building needs more room for training and vehicles, upgraded utilities, air conditioning and a new roof.

The group of 160 volunteers, provides several free services, including ambulance and paramedic service, walk-in first aid, crutch loans and blood pressure screenings. The service is run strictly on donations.
